North Dorm Ready This Week--Prout

Evacuees From Men's Gym Gets Rooms After 10 Weeks Wait

"North Dorm will be completed early this week and the first group of men will move out today or tomorrow," Dr. Frank J. Prout said today. "The plumbing was finished yesterday and the buildings are now complete."

The students who were housed in the Men's gym were evacuated from their homes during the Thanksgiving holidays and moved to underneath the Stadium club, in the handball courts, a hallway in the gym and into the Rec hall.

The men were notified on last Wednesday that they were to be moved. Armed with chalk, they marked their beds and bureaus. The ones who had already left for home were out of luck and some are still looking for their new homes.

Some of the irate students found that in moving, such articles as note books, sport coats, suits, and cameras had been put on the wrong beds and misplaced.

In the Rec hall, where over 200 students were moved, the men are faced with the three-day problem of no heat, no hot water, and no showers.

Under the stadium, the situation is worse. The uninsulated stadium is colder than the Rec hall plus all the other disadvantages. Men in overcoats and earmuffs are trying to get their homework in a place which doesn't seem much like home.

In "Corridor," a hall leading to the handball courts, there are 16 beds. In the handball courts themselves, there is also a state of overcrowdedness.

The Rec hall proved to be a perplexing problem for the mechanical drawing department which recently moved in back of the Rec hall. The instructors have excused women from drawing classes until the men evacuate.

When Dr. Prout came into his office Monday morning, he was met by 20 irate veterans waiting to complain about the conditions which they had encountered on their return from vacation. After a discussion of the problems, Dr. Prout and the men took a tour of North Dorm and calmed their fears about a cold winter.

january grads

All students who will graduate in January are once more warned that they must file their questionnaires with the Bureau of Appointments as soon as possible.

Dr. Muse Will Edit Business Quarterly

Dr. Paul F. Muse, associate professor of Business Education, has been selected, for the second consecutive year, as an issue editor of the National Business Education Quarterly. He was selected by the editor, Dr. Vernal Carmichael, Ball State, Indiana.

The National Business Education Quarterly is the official publication of the United Business Education association. Doctor Muse will act as issue editor for the summer issue that deals primarily with research.

Faculty Members Submit Articles

The fall issue of the Ohio Business Teacher contains two articles by Bowling Green faculty members.

Miss Nellie A. Ogle, associate professor of business education, is the author of "Machine Stenography" and Lewis F. Manhart, assistant professor of business administration contributed "Marketing and Citizenship."

Graduate Work Will Be Offered In Speech Dept.

Graduate work in the speech department leading to the master's degree will begin in February according to Dr. Emerson Shuck, Director of the Graduate School.

Two graduate degrees will be available in the department: speech correction for those specializing in speech and hearing therapy, for those majoring in the broader fields of speech.

Dr. Shuck said the graduate work is an expansion of the University's clinical and under-graduate corrective programs which hold an important place in Northwestern Ohio educational circles.

As a part of this expansion, the department will soon have an experimental theater and increased facilities for radio and clinical work. Extensive laboratory equipment has been installed and more is to be purchased.

Basic courses will be offered during the second semester, and the full program will be available to students in the 1947 summer session.

Elden T. Smith, head of the department, is completing his doctorate at Western Reserve university this year. Adelaide McClelland, former clinician and acting director of the speech clinic at Northwestern and teacher of graduate courses at the University of Michigan, will be in charge of the correction program.

Bromfield Addresses Heinz Luncheon

Louis Bromfield, noted columnist, author and agriculturalist, addressed the first invitational Partners Day luncheon, Nov. 30, dedicated by the H. J. Heinz company to their many Ohio tomato growers. The luncheon was held in the Women's gym.

A national authority on farming techniques, Mr. Bromfield, a nativity and their tomato growers for five Ohioans, honored Heinz commends that students fortify themselves against this disease.

H. J. Heinz II, also reviewed the 77 year history of Heinz and disclosed the vital role which the Ohio farmers played in contributing to the growth of the firm.

Oriental Lecturer Speaks to Forum

Dr. Sunder Joshi, lecturer in Oriental Cultures at the Universities of Chicago and Indiana, spoke on "Is Britain Ready for India's Independence?" last Sunday in the senior high school auditorium.

Presented as the second speaker of the Wood County Public Forum, Dr. Joshi was excellently fitted for his topic by ancestry and training. His ancestors were Hindu priests, his early environment Moslem, and his faith Christian. He has traveled extensively and received his education in both Oriental and Occidental universities.

V-12 and ASTP Time Counts for G.I. Bill

Enrollment under the Army Specialized Training Program and the Navy College Training Program (V-12) is considered active military service in computing entitlement to the various benefits administered by the Veterans administration. Time spent in ASTP and V-12 programs is counted in the 90-day eligibility requirement for various benefits of the G.I. Bill, including loan guaranty, education and training, and readjustment allowances.

If they meet all other requirements, former-ASTP and V-12 enrollees also are eligible for medical treatment, hospitalization, National Service Life Insurance and disability compensation. Former ASTP and V-12 students are eligible for education and training provided they did not complete a course which was a continuation of their civilian course and also if they were not released from the service as a result of an option to continue their course as a civilian. Eligibility for education or training is based on the facts in each individual case.

Heinz Coal Loan Solves Problem

The H. J. Heinz company branch in Fremont will loan 200 tons of coal to the University during the present emergency. The loan enabled classes to be resumed Monday as scheduled after the Thanksgiving recess, and the added supply of fuel will make it possible for the University to operate under the present calendar without interruption.

Announcement concerning the loan was made last week by H. E. McKinley, representing the main offices of the Heinz company in Pittsburgh, who stated that the loan was made in "the spirit of community cooperation." The Fremont plant had a surplus of coal remaining after the 1946 tomato processing season.

Hospital to Offer 'Flu' Inoculations

Inoculations against influenza will be offered to all students upon arrival of vaccine, according to Dr. W. H. Brown of Johnston hospital.

The series will include two shots, the second two weeks after the first.

Dr. Brown said that army and navy medical departments have been successful in reducing influenza with this vaccine. He recommends that students fortify themselves against this disease.

Students will be admitted by ac cards and a tax ticket.

Walsh Directs Experienced Cast; Playwrite Will View Production

The World Premiere of "The Invaders" opens at 8:15 tonight for a four night stand in the auditorium. Directed by Frederick J. Walsh with technical supervision by Robert Finch, the playwright, the play includes an experienced cast.

An enthusiastic response has been indicated from the return of the invitations which were sent to well known figures in the theatrical world, drama critics, university presidents and drama instructors. For the opening tonight formal attire will be in order although it is not a requisite. Mr. and Mrs. Finch will be guests at the opening performance.

The production of "The Invaders" represents a contribution to the contemporary drama beyond that which is normally engendered within the scope of an average university theatre. In his play Mr. Finch does not pay tribute to the commercial cliches of the purely Broadway type endeavor. At the same time, however, he has avoided writing what might be termed "closet" drama. He has written an intense and interesting drama on a subject of vital concern to those in an environment such as ours.

Ralph Klein, faculty business adviser, announced today that tickets will be on sale in front of the auditorium for the remainder of the week from 2-6. General admission is 50 cents. Ac cards and five cent tax ticket will admit university students. All seats are reserved.

"The Invaders," a three act drama, is concerned primarily with the conflict between science and the humanities. The humanities are represented by a university president, Dr. Gordon, played by Bud Gruene. Science is portrayed by an internationally famous scientist, Dr. Smith, played by Bill Prentice, who acts as the antagonistic force of the play. Penny Cloos is the wife of the university president. She and Mr. Prentice may be remembered as Elizabeth and Mr. Manningham in "Angel Street." An interesting sidelight of the play is that the roles of two returned veterans, Speed and Jackson, are played by two returned Bowling Green veterans, Norman Stuckey and Willard Staub. The setting of the play is a small southern university.

An original set has been designed by Harold Obee, technical director of the University Theatre, with the help of John Nagy, student assistant.

Supplementary lighting equipment has been purchased so as to give the production a professional quality. The lighting is under the direction of Dave Thompson who handled lighting effects in "Angel Street."

Musical Talent Tests Offered on Saturday

Tests of musical talent will be given at 10 Saturday morning in 200 Practical Arts building. Students who are not majoring in music but who would like to have a profile of their musical aptitude are particularly urged by William D. Alexander of the music faculty to arrange to take the test.

By the widely endorsed Seashore method mechanically produced sounds on records are used to determine the individual's sensitivity to pitch, time, rhythm, intensity, and timbre.

Interested students should contact Mr. Alexander before 4 Friday afternoon. A fee of fifty cents will be charged to each person who takes the test.

get out and vote...

...back up your council

It is generally admitted that Student Council this year has done more than any other year of its existence as the student government of the University. Not the least of its tasks completed is the recent revision of the constitution which will in effect eliminate the council itself.

If the students who have been on council and thus may be supposed to know the details of that problem decided basic revisions should be made even at the expense of liquidating their own positions, it stands to reason that there must be a grain of sense in that decision. If the students veto the council action, that would be equal to a vote of no confidence. So, win or lose, the present council members have put themselves in a corner where they must vacate their posts either way.

If the present constitution is retained, there is little likelihood that others can make of it a better student government. What is needed is not merely a change of personnel, but a basic change of system.

Oddly enough, opposition to the revisions upon which the students will vote tomorrow comes from the camp of those who support student government nearly as much as from the opponents of letting the students have an effective voice in campus affairs.

These well-meaning but uninitiated persons did not go through the experience of trying to make the present set up function. They did not sit through the hours of committee work in which the revisions were hammered out. They have not been obliged to defend their proposals before the administration and the student body. In short, their idealism is not tempered with the job of facing actual problems.

This afternoon their ideals will meet with the experience that the council members have undergone. From this it is to be hoped a better understanding will result. Council is doing its job by presenting this assembly to thrash out the questions which have been brought out in the discussions of the revised constitution. Every student who is really interested in student government should attend the assembly and take an active part in it.

Chivalrous swains with sabers rattling returned and were by proxy—gallants. Knightlike from steeds Gladstone and Val-Pac they queried prettily—What he, guard? "By order of our gracious King, fair gents, you are now Sirs Lee and Prised." "Sir Lee," quipped Sir Prised, "I would shake the hand of knighted gentry." "My hand, Sir Prised, is yours if I may but touch my lips to your downy cheeks." "Such gallantry," spoke the guard. Watching peasants sighed—replied—"They gave up their homes." "Their comfort they gave." "Yes, and so willingly." "That others might play." "These, then, are truly knights." Ambitious bystanding knaves gave up.

'Skip' and Pals Run WFOB

by Joy Fuller

"This is station WFOB, the Fostoria Broadcasting Company," announced Gordon "Skip" Ward, for the first time last Sunday night. His voice opened the Fostoria FM (frequency modulation) station which will take the air daily from 5 to 10 p.m.

Skip is the station's official announcer and also handles other "miscellaneous" jobs around the studio, including spinning platters, announcing spot commercials, and running the control board.

After the University production, "The Invaders", cast members Will Staub, Norma Stucky and Barry Menagh will help Skip out in his new one man radio station. In addition to helping in the control room, they will write continuity for the station.

'A Hunting We Will Go,' Students Play Frank Buck

by Lois Paine

The morn of November 15 dawned, a typical fall day. But something had gone wrong—no animals were there.

Frost was on the pumpkin and a nip was in the air.

Our furred and feathered friends had a reason for this sudden anti-social attitude. Hunting season opened that afternoon.

At this time of year each of us can, for a buck and a quarter, obtain permission to take a pot shot at a rabbit or even a pheasant or two.

The sport serves manifold purposes—satisfaction of a back to nature instinct, an outlet for temporary wrath at a professor, or a means of supplementing that occasional inadequate meal on campus.

Don't let experience stop any of you. Your reporter never touched a gun but, after extensive research, feels fully qualified to start out, rifle in hand, for a hunt, as well as to instruct all you lovely people in the intricacies of getting your prey. (Mind you girls, keep to the subject at hand!)

Remember to wear clothes that blend in with the scenery so you can sneak up on the beasts but, of course, if you blend too well, you'll be brought home stiff—and not from cold. Experts suggest the purchase of a fashionable red chapeau with a bell on it.

Next comes the matter of the shootin' iron. A shot-gun is generally used because it blasts little lead pellets all over the place and it's almost impossible to miss your game. (It says here.)

When hunting birds, don't ever shoot at your feathered target until he's off the ground. It's not sportsmanlike and, after all, if you're going to catch the bird on the ground you might as well chase him with a butterfly net.

For companionship and aid take along some old mongrel who has had hunting experience. A hunting dog, that is.

He can probably give you some good "pointers."

A good dog, authorities tell me, looks up the rabbit and chases him right in front of the hunter. Then all the hunter has to do is aim at a spot immediately in front of where the rabbit is heading, and the little animal runs innocently into the line of fire.

If several of you old buddies buddies go out together, always walk abreast. Never get in front of your best friend. You might find he's barbaric enough to shoot right through you.

So, my good people, if the urge for the open country hits you before January first, (when the season ends), you can, with these basic instructions, spend a profitable day or two bagging the innards of a good pot pie. And, incidentally, don't let the lack of a gun stop you. The state says that you may use a bow and arrow.

Ancient Alarm Awakes All at 6

Six a.m., an indecent hour for anything but sleep, usually finds the Men's gym in peaceful slumber. The congestion that is apparent during the day has not yet awakened.

Last week five minutes before six, "the loudest alarm clock on the campus," went off.

The men reacted to it like the well-remembered sound of reveille.

"Throw it out the window." "Hey, take it outside and play it."

"Who in the—?"

Then silence. But only temporarily. Off it went again. Protests, this time more vehement. Silence. And for five beautiful minutes quiet. Then the alarm shattered the stillness once more.

An investigation found William (Alabama, that is) Buck, handling a huge and ancient alarm clock like a time bomb. In desperation he finally gave up and placed it in a drawer under a pile of shirts. The sound was still audible, but it was time to get up anyway.

Later Buck explained that he had to get up early for a trip to Toledo and borrowed the clock from a friend who neglected to explain how to shut it off.

Under pressure Buck returned "the loudest alarm on the campus."

Names, Like Shoes, Come In Two's

"I'm sorry, I didn't get the name. Oh, well, what's in a name?" If you really want to know, here's the answer.

On the Bowling Green campus there are 36 Smiths, 25 Millers, 21 Johnsons, and 19 Browns. The Jones and the Thomases are tied with 17 and the Davises follow with 16.

The "Good" on the campus is maintained by 'fellow,

She Sings, Too

by Joanne Guthrie

Gladys Swarthout, leading mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan, Chicago, and San Francisco operas, will present a recital Dec. 17 in the Women's gym. Admission to this program, which is the major event in the first semester assembly series, will be by Ac card.

Miss Swarthout has been the star of five motion pictures and is the author of the best-seller "Come Soon, Tomorrow!"

She was born on Christmas day in the small town of Deepwater, Missouri. From singing in a Kansas City church choir she has become one of the nation's top-flight opera stars. The roles with which she is most closely identified are those of Mignon and Carmen.

Students may secure their tax tickets for the Gladys Swarthout concert in 208 Science building on Wednesday, Dec. 11, Thursday, Dec. 12, Friday, Dec. 13 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Activity tickets are required at the time of purchase as well as at the door on the evening of the concert. Veterans' wives may also secure tax tickets during the same period. Students may secure reserved seats for 65 cents on presenting their activity cards.

In private life she is the wife of Frank M. Chapman, Jr., a former operatic baritone who now serves as her personal manager.

Miss Swarthout divides her leisure hours between a New York City apartment and a 150-year-old Connecticut farmhouse.

Annually voted one of America's ten best dressed women, she has all her clothes designed by the celebrated Valentina.

Her numerous enthusiasms range from "ironing pretty things" to Washington, D. C., which she regards as "the most exciting, confusing place in the world."

Duet Recital Warmly Received

by Jim Limbacher

A warm reception was given the third faculty recital presenting cellist Emily Derrer and pianist Myrtle Jensen by the nearly 200 students and faculty members who attended the program Friday evening, Nov. 22.

Miss Derrer's pleasantness and Miss Jensen's austerity made a good listening and watching combination. Their first selection in a shorter-than-usual program was Handel's "Sonata in G Minor." It was good in all respects, even to its just-right length.

In the middle series were the familiar "Serenade Espagnole" by Glazounow, "Pibroch" by Ban-tock, and "Allegro Appassionato" by Saint-Saens. Although all these numbers featured Miss Derrer it was Miss Jensen's subdued accompaniment which made them

T. U. REVISES CONSTITUTION

The Student Council of Toledo University has appointed committees to work on revisions of the council constitution. According to the council president, "no sweeping revision of the document is intended, but the outmoded parts will be revised or removed entirely."

This year, not one, but two sets of twins will lead "cheers" for the 1946-47 Hilltoppers at Bowling Green, Kentucky. Confusin' but amusing.

MUSIC THE HARD WAY:

It cost composition major Emil Strom of Hamlin College all his baggage and most of his personal belongings, $800 worth of lost music and 20 pounds of lost weight to study music in France this past summer—and he wants to go back again NEXT summer!

Strom, now studying under Dean Ernst Krenek of the school of music, was one of 18 American students attending the first postwar summer session of the American Arts Schools in the Palace of Fontainebleau.

His baggage and music were lost in travelling, but his lost weight was caused by cramming six months work into two, and a something-more-than rigid French diet. All things considered, Strom thinks his trip was a valuable experience, and he hopes the trip next summer will be more enjoyable—even if he has to tie his baggage on his back next time to keep from losing it.

MARITAL BLISS:

Two of the happiest couples at North Texas State College are the Joneses and the Smiths who live on the third floor of the manual arts building. Fed regularly, with no grocery bills to pay and no home work to do, they live in luxurious marital happiness undisturbed by the ringing of class bells and passing home economics students.

For the Joneses and the Smiths aren't really NT student couples who couldn't find a Denton apartment to rent; they're white rats used by the School of Home Economics in research problems.

Rat gossip columnists of the School of Home Economics report that the Joneses and the Smiths are "anticipating" this fall, and the matter promises food for gossip for the rat sewing circle in cages nearby—four females, all single.

Rats are used in studies because they respond to food nutrients in a manner strikingly similar to human beings. One year in a rat's life is equal to 30 or 40 years of a human being's life, explains the nutrition instructor, Miss LaVone Bowman. This fact makes it possible for the research worker to see the effect of certain diets in a relatively short time.

The man who always waits for something to turn up—will find that his toes might be the first to do it.

Defensive Play Features 1946 Football Program

by Cortes Shepherd

The story of this year's football season is a story told in injuries. Although the Falcons copped five of their eight starts, not one game was played with all eleven of Coach Whitaker's starters. And in most cases there were two or three first stringers watching the game due to injuries.

The outstanding feature of this season was the work done by the Falcon linemen. Their feat of permitting only 33 points in eight games was among the best defensive records in the country. This mark was partly offset by an acute inability to score themselves. As a result only one game was decided by more than two touchdowns and that the final game with Xavier when the Falcons went hogwild to score a 33-6 victory.

The seasons opener found B.G. traveling to Mt. Pleasant, Michigan to do battle with Central Michigan. With Red Lowry, B.G.'s speedy tailback sitting this one out, the Falcon offensive was unable to get started and the hosts returned the winners, 7-0. The punting of quarterback Russ Maples was sensational and consistently put the home town athletes in the hole with well placed boots.

The first home game and the Falcon's second of the year resulted in a 13-0 victory over Ball State of Indiana. Miami's high geared Redskins came to Bowling Green for the third game and when the dust had settled they had won a 6-0 decision.

After the Miami game the grid-ders took to the road for games with Kent State and, Canisius of Buffalo, N.Y. The Falcons spoiled the Kent home-coming day by walking off the field with a 13-0 decision. This game marked the return of Red Lowry to the line-up and the fleet footed halfback celebrated the day by running over both touchdowns, one on a 75-yard run back of an intercepted pass.

A Frank Merriwell finish returned the Falcons winners in their first trip to New York against the strong Canisius eleven, 13-7. Vern Dunham chalked up the first B.G. score by racing 68 yards with an intercepted pass. The winning score came just before the end of the game when a Canisius defender batted Jack Freitas' pass into the waiting arms of Mark Welker as he laid on the ground.

Oberlin's Yeomen helped the Falcons celebrate Homecoming Day, but the honors all went to B.G. as the game ended 14-0 with the Falcons on top.

For their seventh engagement the Falcons made their second trip to New York to battle St. Bonaventure in Olean, but this time they came home on the short end of a 13-9 count.

In winning five of their eight games, the Falcons piled up 95 points to 33 for their opponents. Minnich led the scoring with 30 points. He was followed by Lowery, Van Atta and Welker with 12 points apiece.

On the defensive side the play of several men stood out all year; however the play of Capt. Wayne Bordner was exceptional throughout the year. Bordner made the All-Ohio team in both 1942 and 1943 before entering the Marines. He returned this year to play the same brand of ball and should easily make his third appearance on the all-state team.

Chi Sigma First In Intramurals

Acting manager Roy Lee announced the close of the fraternity football intramural league this week with team standings as follows:

Chi Sigma	5	0
Sigma Nu	4	1
Alpha Tau Omega	4	1
Kappa Sigma Delta	1	3
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	0	4
Pi Kappa Alpha	0	5

Scoring is on the basis of two points for a win, one point for a tie, and no points for a loss. Points shall be accumulated by the fraternities throughout the entire intramural season with an athletic cup to be awarded to the fraternity with the largest number of points.

Falcons Squeeze Past Tiffin As Basketball Season Opens

A speedy, flashy, underdog Tiffin five almost spoiled the opening game on the Falcon's 1946-7 basketball schedule as Bowling Green began its current season "Garden Campaign" on the hardwood court of the local high school. Trailing in the first two quarters of play, the Falcons, midway in the second half, mustered a four-point lead over the visitors to mark up the number one win of the year, 46-42.

Tiffin snagged the tip-off and set a fast pace for the Falcons to follow as they outplayed the home team the first two quarters of play. Depending upon speed rather than height, the visitors dropped in baskets to hold the edge at quartertime 11-10. Mac Otten, Bee Gee center, was out-jumped at the basket by the fast moving Tiffin team which continued to lead the Falcons at the half 20-19. Macko, Tiffin center, took scoring honors the first half with 10 points.

The Tiffin quintet with Trask and Macko leading the play, matched Bee Gee basket for basket in the last period, trying hard to make up their four-point deficit before the gun. Staving off a last minute attack, the Falcons topped Tiffin to chalk up an "x" in the win column.

Six veteran Falcon cagers saw action in last Wednesday night's game as Johnny Payak, 1944 forward, bucketed 15 points and led in sparkling offensive play and team-work. In the line-up were Mac Otten—center, Leo Kubiak—guard, Howard Martin—forward, Joe Siegfert—guard, Tom Inman—forward, and Jim Knierim—guard.

Grid Predixions Averaged .770

Well, the football season is over, and we're sorry to see it go. It was a lot of fun trying to pick the winners—and being crossed up. We pulled some big "boners" during the year, but also predicted some upsets—which strangely enough came off.

Looking back over the season, we stuck with some teams that payed off—Army, Notre Dame, Georgia, and U. C. L. A., and then there were some that kicked us around a little—Ohio State and Duke. The only thing left now is the Southern California (over)—Tulane on Dec. 21 and the bowl games.

Our final average was boosted quite a bit these past two weeks—maybe because this last week there was no paper—Ha! Nevertheless our final average was 131 right out of a possible 170—percentage .770. This is not a "Williamson ranking", but we're pretty proud of it.

Tentative Schedule Formed For University "B" Squad

Because of the large number of men reporting for basketball this season, Bowling Green university will have a "B" squad besides the varsity team. A full schedule is being worked out for the "B" team but at present all available dates have not been filled. Thirty-six men are on the roster but this will be cut to 20 as the season progresses.

Coach Fred Marsh has quite a bit of good material from which to choose his starting line-up. These men are mostly freshman who will be able to obtain the experience needed for a berth on the varsity. Quite a few of the men have just finished with football and need a little time to get started.

Some of the former high school stars on the squad who will see plenty of action this year are: Bob Long, 5 foot 10 inch guard from Toledo Woodward, who was picked on the first all-state tournament team in 1944; Chet McPhee, 5 foot 9 inch forward, who was all-state for two years at Canfield, Ohio; Bob Miller, 6 foot 2 inch guard, from Ashland, Ohio, who was chosen captain of the all-state second team in 1944; Paul Thomas, who was all-state at Franklin, Ohio; Wayne Berger, 6 foot 4 inch center from Sturgis, Michigan; and Eli Mumley, 6 foot 3 inch guard from Wheeling, West Virginia.

Pepperdine Heads List of Week's Cage Schedule

With two wins tucked under their belts, the Falcon cagers will face their first "twin-bill" of the season tomorrow night when Ohio Northern and Defiance attempt to derail the highly touted Bowling Green quintet. If the Falcons emerge victorious in these battles they still have to face Central Michigan at Mount Pleasant Saturday and George Pepperdine of Los Angeles, next Monday night on the local court.

andy says:

The following is a weekly feature which will give the opinions of Coach Harold Anderson, Falcon cage mentor, on the happenings up to press time. (Ed.)

Falcons vs. Tiffin: "I was somewhat disappointed with the showing of the boys, they were too tight in their effort to make good. Also playing on the small high school floor didn't help matters any. Tiffin was 'up' for this one—and came close."

Falcons vs. Defiance and Ohio Northern: "The easy games of last year will be tough this year. Ohio Northern has a good team, which also goes for Defiance—we're not going to be over optimistic."

Central Michigan: "This team is tough, and also we'll be playing on a very small floor which won't make it any easier."

Falcons vs. George Pepperdine: "This will be one of the best games of the season and we'll be lucky to win it. Pepperdine has had one of the consistently better teams on the west coast. They'll be plenty tough."

In general: "Although the showing wasn't too good in the first game, I'm not worried over the long run. As for individual showing so far no one man has starred."

Table Tennis Club Will Elect Officers

Fred Fay, general chairman, stated that the dance will be operated on a strictly non-profit basis and for that reason there will be no special theme or decorations.

The band, which consists of 18 pieces and features the Clooney sisters as vocalists, was organized in December of 1939. Pastor, who plays the saxophone, took up this instrument because of his admiration for Jimmy Dorsey.

The Pastor orchestra will come to Bowling Green after playing at the Hotel Fort Hayes in St. Louis. In addition to similar engagements, the band broadcasts over N.B.C. and Mutual networks. It also records for R.C.A. Victor records.

Women students may have two o'clock permissions for this dance by designating their dance destinations in their house sign-out books. No special permission is necessary.
